

Badger Way Walk

*10 miles, Map ref O/S Outdoor leisure 30 Yorkshire Dales Northern & Central Areas
The Morritt - Badger Way, Barningham Circular*

This is a route, which takes you from the lush parkland surrounding The Morritt & up to the wilder scenery of Barningham Moor.

Turn right out of the hotel & cross the bridge. Turn right through a farmyard & cross a field to walk up through Mill Wood. Join the road right & then along the bridleway that passes Wilson House. On your left you will see the trig point on Eggmartin Hill. Go through the next farmyard & follow the wall & then hedge down to Low Lane. Turn right. At the road, turn right & then left along a bridleway to pass Bragg House to the moor road.

Turn right & after a mile, at Haythwaite bear left onto a bridleway on to the moor. The path crosses towards a wall on your right. Beyond the wall corner the track climbs to your right. After ½ mile you will see a tall stone cairn away on your left – head for it.
