A brand new bilingual play with music inspired and created by the young people of Mess Up The Mess Theatre Company alongside actor and writer Aled Pedrick, composer Ifan Davies (lead singer of Sŵnami) and director Gethin Evans (Cwmni Pluen).

Us Proclamed: Clywch Ni throws a spotlight on the unique identities, perspectives, passions and interests of young people growing up in Wales today. Through song, comedy, poetry, drama and movement find out what makes this tight company of young people tick.

These bleeding, poncy, liberal hearts. Yammering on about self-expression, individuality and becoming your own person. Just creating a bunch of jigsaw pieces that don't belong in the box.

You know what you do with a brick that doesn't fit in the wall, or a useless piece of a clock...?

*Mae amser i drafod,
Ac amser i wneud;
Er gwaethaf pob rhwystr
Ni'n mynnu dweud ein dweud.*
