BESPOKE MODULAR SEATING

WHAT IS MODULAR

SEATING

Modular seating collections provide unlimited composition possibilities. You will find that there are always pieces that differ in size and design with this type of seating. This is in order to offer many varying combinations, which is essentially what makes modular seating; its modularity.

AMERICA

The America collection comes in two different heights and widths. It also includes a corner piece to adjoin angular spaces. This allows it to fit all sorts of unique areas.

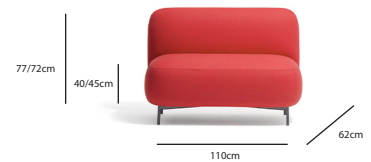

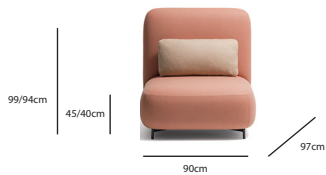

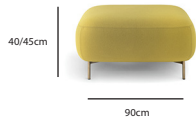

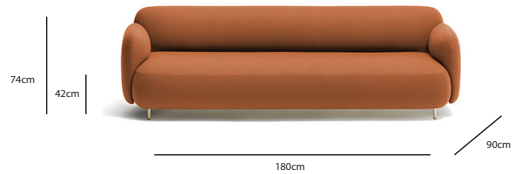

BUDDY

The Buddy collection consists of: three seats, three poufs and a sofa. All of which come in two different sizes. As seen in the photo below, they can be arranged any which way. This is what makes this collection a part of the modular seating family, as there are infinite combinations.

BUDDY

REN

There are two separate types of seating in the Ren collection: Ren Dine, which comes in three varying heights and Ren Office that has two. Other than measurements, the main difference between them is that Ren Office has side panels and Ren Dine does not. There are also two size poufs to choose from, which magnifies the modularity of this collection.

HOST

The Host collection includes four types of seating: a chair, pouf, sofa and corner piece. There are two different bases to choose from, which would also determine height. Moverover, the collection includes lounge versions of the chair and pouf in two sizes each.

BLOOM

The Bloom collection consists of three types of pouf seating, which can be combined to make a multitude of structures. This is a fun set to play around with in your space to make it really unique.
