

KCB Privacy Policy

Kensington College of Business (KCB) takes the privacy of our students seriously. This statement has been processed in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

The College is continuously committed to safeguarding the privacy of our students, while providing a personalised and valuable service. KCB collects and processes personal information to effectively manage the student's learning, facilitate, support and deliver the student's education in order to meet its statutory obligations as a Higher Education (HE) institute. KCB is committed to being transparent and accountable on how it collects, protects and uses personal information.

1. Data Collection Process

The College collects the following information under the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) Article 6c (Legal Obligation), and 6e (Public Task) and the Data Protection Act 2018, in order to comply with the legal requirements from the Office for Students (OFS) and the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA).

According to GDPR there are only two main explanations why institutions should process student information: they are either on a lawful basis or by seeking consent from the applicant itself. Most of our student information are collected for both reasons on a lawful basis and because our students give consent.

The College collects student personal information in a number of different ways, these could be retrieved through the following:

- The use of enquiry, application and registration forms directly to the College;
- When you apply to study at KCB and complete our application forms via our website and / or through UCAS and when you complete other admissions processes and procedures;
- When you communicate with the College by telephone, e-mail or via the College website;
- In various other ways as you interact with the College during your time as a student of KCB, for the various purposes mentioned below;

- UKVI

The College shares your personal information with third parties where there is a legal obligation including ESFA, Office for Students, Police, Social Services and other education providers. As a legal requirement from the Department for Education (DfE) to comply with specific course designation criteria, KCB has to provide your personal information to HESA. This is a legal requirement and, therefore the College will not need to seek the student's permission to disclose any information to HESA.

ESFA PERSONAL INFORMATION SHARING AGREEMENT:

This privacy statement is issued by the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA), on behalf of the Secretary of State for the Department of Education (DfE). It is to inform KCB students that their personal information will be used by the DfE, the ESFA and any successor bodies to these organizations. For the purposes of relevant personal information protection legislation, the DfE is the data controller for personal data processed by the ESFA.

Your personal information is used by the DfE to carry out its functions and to meet its statutory responsibilities, including under the Apprenticeships and Skills. Your information will be securely destroyed after it is no longer of use to the College.

Your information may be shared with third parties for education, training, employment and well – being related purposes. This will only take place where the law allows it and the sharing is in compliance with the data protection legislation.

5. ATTENDANCE MONITORING

Students enrolling on a course at KCB must agree to have their attendance and engagement monitored, and for the data to be used for intervention and reporting purposes. The College monitors student's attendance and engagement because the College has a duty of care as a responsible institution to follow up promptly on matters of non-attendance and non-engagement so that students can be given the support they need and given the opportunity to succeed.

The College is obliged to comply with the requirements of UKVI, Student Loans Company and other external agencies which needs monitoring and reporting of student attendance and engagement.
