What's the Best City in America for College Students?

We may be partial, but we think Boston is the best place in the United States for college students. Every year, more than 250,000 students from all over the world come to Boston. Newbury makes the most of it with a safe residential campus just 10 minutes from the excitement of the city. Easily accessible by the "T" (the city's rapid transit system), Boston is one of the nation's top business and cultural cities. Whether your thing is shopping, museums, music, food, American history or sports (basketball's Celtics, baseball's Red Sox, hockey's Bruins are nearby; football's Patriots and soccer's Revolution are just out of town), you won't be disappointed.

Looking for a Personalized Academic Experience?

NewburyWorks.

The entire Newbury academic experience is personalized, from time management plans in your first year, to targeted coursework in every program of study. Classes are intentionally small, allowing you to make real connections with professors. And Newbury College offers something very special - an education that connects you to your future.

Our graduates are successful because they learn not just theory in the classroom but how to apply their lessons to work. Faculty are practitioners in the fields they teach. So, if you study business, it is a business person teaching the course. Design classes are taught by actual designers. Culinary courses are taught by actual chefs. Hotel management courses are taught by people who have managed hotels.

Our students, through both their courses and internships, build a bridge to great careers. In fact, the piece you are holding right now was designed by one of our graduates, Lisa Hardy (shown in the center photo below). She now works as a graphic designer at an interactive agency, where she completed one of her internships. Newbury offers students a meaningful experience in one of the world's great cities. Through such a strong commitment to your success, we offer you a passport to your dreams.

Looking for a Solid Academic Foundation?

NewburyWorks.

When it comes to our teaching philosophy, professional expertise is more than a goal - it's a given. By design, the Newbury curriculum blends academic theory with practical experience. Classes fueled by debate and discussion. A liberal arts tradition that strengthens problem solving and critical thinking ability. And that's just the beginning.

A Small School With a Big Heart

"Throughout my college search, Newbury always stood out by the way they made sure there was clear communication between me as a prospective student and Newbury as an institution. ...Once at Newbury, I was impressed by the strong sense of community. Newbury wasn't just a transition from high school to college, but a transition to a completely different country and culture. My classmates and teachers welcomed me with open arms and I have felt the genuine care and warmth Newbury has to offer ever since. It's really true that, 'Newbury is a small school with a big heart.' It has really become my home away from home."
