

Holborn Bars, Chancery Lane, London

Constant Air Systems Ltd acted as principal contractor on this project and completed the supply and installation of three new chillers within the building's basement. This included the removal of the existing chillers and pipework including all plant movement in a live building.

The new chillers were positioned and connected to the buildings existing chilled water system with new pipework services.

We also completed all new electrical and BMS wiring and software installations.

The total contract value was circa £700,000

