Former Salvation Army, Stockport

Complete Demolition's experienced team of demolition operatives carried out demolition works and facade retention to the former Salvation Army Citadel in Stockport.

The works consisted of full retention of the listed facade, careful hand demolition including separation before the remainder of the building was demolished using a demolition excavator fitted with specialist attachments. Due consideration to both pedestrian and vehicle traffic resulted in footpath and road closures being applied for and management systems being installed in the bustling town centre of Stockport.

The scheme has created high quality contemporary living accommodation whilst at the same time maintaining the distinctive character of both the former theatre and hall elevations.
