Your roadmap to a robust incident response plan

R3: Resilience, Response & Recovery Summit 2018, brought to you by TEISS, is the No.1 conference with a sharp focus on post-breach response plans, including forensic and legal requirements, communication strategies and top tips for a fast recovery.

In its fourth year, the R3 Summit brings you:

Over 150 information security professionals ▪ 20+ top-notch speakers ▪ 4 case study discussions ▪ 4 roundtable discussions ▪ 3 how-to sessions ▪ 3 keynote sessions ▪ 2 spring board discussions ▪ 1 panel ▪ 1 workshop

The social engineering and insider threat is increasingly high on the list of concerns, and requires a very distinct style of incident response. How can these compromises be identified and managed?

At R3 Summit, we help you identify the most important aspects of cyber-resilience, response and recovery, as well as look at the latest trends in attack patterns and strategic management.

Do you have processes in place to catch and contain cyber-breaches? Is there an incident response plan in place? At R3 Summit, we help you look at the impact of the new breach notification regulations on your operations.
