

Fujifilm and Genus, The Microfilm Shop reach master supply agreement for Fujifilm microfilm distribution in EMEA.

Fujifilm are pleased to announce that Genus, The Microfilm Shop has been appointed distributor for Fujifilm Microfilm products in the EMEA region.

With immediate effect, clients across the Europe, Africa and Middle East region will have access to the full range of Fujifilm microfilm products from Genus, The Microfilm Shop.

Genus, The Microfilm Shop and Fujifilm Europe will be holding stock in both the UK and Germany to ensure a fast and efficient delivery service.

Fujifilm have a world renowned range of silver original microfilms, direct duplicate microfilms, positive print microfilms and their own range of AR-1000 microfilm writer films. Genus, The Microfilm Shop provides a complete range of microfilm consumables under its Ozaphan brand, including processing chemistry, diazo films, jackets and aperture cards as well as spools, boxes and cartridges. Combined with a full range of microfilm scanning and production equipment Genus, The Microfilm Shop has the widest range of microfilm products in the world.

Fujifilm are looking forward to this partnership with Genus, The Microfilm Shop and to offering an extended choice for all EMEA microfilm users, whilst at the same time showing the commitment that Fujifilm have to microfilm as a long term document archiving technology.

Yoshiki Kimura
Senior Vice President
Industrial Products Division

GENUS

(web site) - www.genusit.com and www.microfilm.com
(emails) - info@genusit.com and info@microfilm.com

FUJIFILM

(web site) - www.fujifilm.eu/eu/products/industrial-products/microfilm-and-industrial-film/
(email) - ipd@fujifilm.eu