Food Safety & Quality Policy

The Management of PureMalt Products Ltd recognises the importance of satisfying its customers' needs in an increasingly competitive market. The Company's objective will always be to meet and exceed its customers' food safety & quality expectations and to continuously improve these areas of customer service.

These objectives will be achieved by:

- Developing close working relationships with customers to understand their current and future needs.
- Continuously monitoring the Company's food safety and quality performance. Information regarding the company's performance will be communicated throughout the organisation, so that employees can contribute to this objective.
- Making available sufficient resources to ensure that its products and feed materials are safe, legal and conform to pre-set specifications.
- Ensuring that all products are manufactured under hygienic conditions which met the requirements of Good Manufacturing Practice (GMP) and the Global Standard for Food Safety.
- Ensuring that feed materials produced are manufactured under hygienic conditions and to the requirements of FEMAS.
- Developing and maintaining a site culture in which all employees can become fully involved in achieving the Company's food safety & quality targets.
- The use of training and development to ensure that all staff are competent and able to achieve their full potential.
