The events are set in stunning scenery in one of the most beautiful parts of the country. Always well marshalled with them cheering you on as you go past...couldn't recommend them enough.

Stunning day on Anglesey for #sandmantriathlon yesterday.

My third time doing this race and when you get weather like we had yesterday, you can't beat it.

Love this guys! Was a fantastic day, not sure how you managed convince the weather gods to avoid north wales for the day but we are eternally grateful.

First Always Aim High Event on Sunday, The Sandman Classic. Great organisation, stunning location and challenging course. Well done AAH and thank you.

I'm still buzzing from the Sandman and Sunday. I don't know how you keep making your events better and better or how you manage to always deliver a superb race but please keep up the good work. Absolutely superb.
