About Nigel James Yacht Charter

Helping you find the perfect yacht for your dream voyage

Independent Yacht Charter Brokers

We're yacht charter brokers, agents of yacht owners and operators. We're independent, just like you – free to make our choices and offer yachts from any owner or charter fleet, anywhere. The independent advice we offer and the bookings we make on your behalf can only be impartial because we are not charter-yacht operators, nor are we tied to any.

We make it clear who owns and operates the yacht you will be sailing, long before you decide to book. We are proud to offer the yachts and organisations we represent, they are the best, we don't recommend any other.

How can we help you?

So whose boat should you sail on? Who can you rely on to deliver all those promises you read about? Which of the many yacht- or fleet-owners offer good boats, which are bad and which are just plain indifferent? Where should you go? How can you know all this in advance? Ask us – the “bad” and “indifferent” are not represented here.

We have sailed many (not all) of the vast range of vessels we offer and have enjoyed many of the destinations we suggest, and we're still exploring. Our experience over the past twenty five years covers most of our chartering destinations. The yachts we offer come recommended because we know them and, most importantly, the people who run them.
