(2) Matters relating to outside Directors (roles and functions of outside directors)

Outside Directors are paid a fixed amount since they are independent of operations. To ensure that remuneration is commensurate with the roles and responsibilities of Directors in reference to levels of remuneration at other companies, while maintaining objectivity and achieving transparency in the decision process, the remuneration amounts for each Directors are deliberated at an advisory committee made up of a majority of outside Officers before decision is made by a resolution of the Board of Directors, such amounts to be within the maximum amount approved at the Annual Shareholders Meeting (63 million yen per month). The committee chairperson is chosen by the committee members from among the committee members.

Remunerations for Audit & Supervisory Board Members are determined based on discussions taking into account each Audit & Supervisory Board Member’s position and within the amount approved at the Annual Shareholders Meeting of up to 14 million yen per month.

The system of paying retirement benefits to Company Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members has been abolished.

(5) Policies on selecting candidates for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members

To attain sustainable growth and improve medium and long-term corporate value, candidates for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members are in principle selected from a diverse group of people taking their knowledge, experiences, abilities, and personalities etc. into account.

Based on this, when selecting, the Company takes into consideration expertise in managing the Group’s energy business and other businesses for internal Director candidates and the individual’s independent-mindedness for making objective judgments, and whether they have wide-ranging knowledge, wealth of experience, and expertise in their specialized fields for external Director candidates.

In selecting candidates for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members, the Company makes a decision based on the deliberation of a voluntary advisory committee in which external Officers comprise a majority from the standpoint of securing objectivity and transparency of the decision-making process (the composition of the voluntary advisory committee is the same as the remuneration advisory committee.)

<Policy and efforts supporting female employees to play active roles>

Since implementing its childcare leave and eldercare leave system in 1992, Osaka Gas has been making efforts to create a better working environment which promotes a work-life balance for its employees even before the Act on Advancement of Measures to Support Raising Next-Generation Children was implemented. The levels at the Company exceed the legal requirements, and in recognition of its efforts the Company was recognized by the Minister of Labour in 2001 as a “Family Friendly Company”. The Company has submitted an action plan four times since 2007 in accordance with the Act on Advancement of Measures to Support Raising Next-Generation Children, and the Minister of Health, Labour and Welfare has certified Osaka Gas as a company with “Kurumin Mark”. With few female employees resigning due to childbirth or childrearing because of the Company’s merit-based system and its initiatives to expand the work field for female employees, the average length of service for male and female employees in FY2015 are almost the same at 19.3 years and 21.7 years, respectively.

In 2010, Osaka Gas, with its six affiliated companies, endorsed and expressed their support for the objectives of the Women’s Empowerment Principles (WEPs) and established the Diversity Promotion Team in the Human Resources Department in 2013. In March 2014, the Group has announced the Osaka Gas Group Diversity Promotion Policy with its goal to aid female employees to achieve successful careers, the Team has been working to diversify the workforce, raising awareness and promoting its “Smart Work” initiatives to create a work environment in which a diverse workforce can achieve success. The Company’s involvement in diversity issues have been recognized, as Osaka Gas was selected in 2014 as one of the “one hundred diversity promotion companies” (in which the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry recognizes companies that promoted diversity while increasing corporate value). Osaka Gas has also been selected as a “Nadeshiko stock” for three consecutive years since 2013.

The Company is aiming to maintain the ratio of career-path employees at above 30% for female employees, make female employees account for 5% of the managerial staff by 2020, and to appoint female Officers at an early date. The Company also formulated an action plan and is proceeding with efforts pursuant to the Act on Promotion of Women’s Participation and Advancement in the Workplace. While 15% of female employees were career-track employees in FY2004, this figure reached 32.6% in FY2016, and whereas women accounted for only 0.3% of management in FY2004, the figure reached 2.7% (including two division general managers) in FY2016.
