PROPERTY TAX RELIEF FOR PROPERTY DAMAGED IN STORM

If Central Oregon's recent storms have caused significant damage to your home or business, you may be eligible for a discount on your property taxes. Oregon law includes a provision that allows property owners who experience a casualty loss due to an "act of God" or fire to apply for a reduction of property taxes. The proration of tax applies only to taxable structures or property – but not to items such as vehicles or residential personal items.

"We know that the accumulation of snow during our recent storms is starting to cause structural issues and other damage for some property owners in Deschutes County," said Deschutes County Assessor Scot Langton. "It's important that property owners who have been significantly impacted by this winter's storms know about this option."

The online application for property tax proration and additional information can be found at: <http://www.deschutes.org/propertytaxrelief>. Applications are also available at the Deschutes County Tax Office, which is located at 1300 NW Wall Street in Bend. Residents with questions about the application for property tax proration can call the Deschutes County Tax Office at 388-6540.

Applications need to be submitted by June 30.

CENTRAL OREGON CAT ALLIANCE RECEIVES $21K GRANT FROM PETSMART CHARITIES

The Central Oregon Cat Alliance, a partnership between Bend Spay+Neuter Project, Brightside Animal Center and the Humane Society of Central Oregon, has received a $21K grant from PetSmart Charities to provide free spay/neuter and vaccinations for 1,000 outdoor cats in Deschutes County in 2017.

High volume, high quality sterilization clinics will be held once a month at either Bend Spay+Neuter Project or the Humane Society of Central Oregon beginning in February. Volunteers are needed to help humanely trap and transport cats for surgery and vaccinations. Please contact Bend Spay+Neuter Project if you are interested in volunteering, or if you see cats on your property. A full schedule of clinics can be found at www.bendsnip.org/events.

This program is meant for outdoor, stray or feral cats only and does not apply to pet cats. If you are in need of assistance with spaying/neutering or vaccinating pet cats, please call 541-617-1010. The Central Oregon Cat Alliance (COCA) has been partnering to address outdoor cat overpopulation and homelessness since 2013. Over the past three years, COCA has provided spay/neuter and vaccinations for over 3,000 outdoor cats in Deschutes County, dramatically reducing the number of cats entering local shelters and living outdoors. In addition, over 400 kittens have been fostered and adopted into loving homes through this program.

For more information, please visit our Facebook page at www.facebook.com/COCAAlliance.

EXCLUSION DAY FOR UNIMMUNIZED CHILDREN WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 15, 2017

Deschutes County Health Services wants to remind parents that children will not be able to attend school or child care starting Feb. 15 if their school records show missing immunizations. State law requires that all children in public and private schools, preschools, Head Start, and certified child care facilities have up-to-date immunization records, or have a non-medical or medical exemption on file at their school.

"The goal of this law is to ensure that all children in our community are protected against serious vaccine-preventable diseases," said Deschutes County Health Services Director Dr. George Conway.

Letters have been sent to notify parents and guardians if their child needs immunizations to stay in school or child care. Many parents get letters because their child's school or day care records are not up-to-date, even though the child may have all of their shots. It is important for parents to update their child's immunization record after every shot. If school and child care immunization records are not up-to-date, the child will be sent home on Feb. 15.

For parents seeking a non-medical exemption, a certificate of completion of vaccine education from a health care practitioner or from the Oregon Health Authority on-line education module must be provided to the child's school. The module can be viewed at: www.healthoregon.org/vaccineexemption.

Parents seeking immunizations for their children should contact their health care provider, a School Based Health Center (SBHC) or Deschutes County Health Services (541-322-7499) to make an appointment. Appointments at School Based Health Centers can be made at the following:

- Bend – Bend High SBHC or Ensworth SBHC - (541) 323-3850
- La Pine – La Pine SBHC - (541) 536-0400
- Redmond – Lynch SBHC - (541) 923-5800 or Redmond High SBHC - (541) 526-6623
- Sisters – Sisters SBHC - (541) 526-6623

Pharmacists can also immunize children age 7 or older. Please contact your local pharmacy for details.

For more information about child immunizations, please visit: www.deschutes.org/immunizations or call (541) 322-7499.

COUNTY REMINDS PROPERTY OWNERS TO KEEP SIDEWALKS CLEAR OF SNOW AND ICE

As winter arrives in Central Oregon, the Deschutes County Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Committee (BPAC) reminds property owners to keep sidewalks clear of snow and ice. Bend, La Pine, Redmond, and Sisters all have ordinances relating to the year-round clearing of sidewalks. While the language varies, the message is the same – business or property owners must remove ice or snow from the sidewalk adjoining their property within a defined time to keep pedestrian walkways clear. Generally, in business districts, the time limit is six hours and in residential areas it is 24 hours.

These city codes help make sidewalks safer and encourage good business practices. When pathways are clear, the message to customers is that the business cares about safety and welcomes access for all to the front door. The BPAC is an advisory committee of the Deschutes County Commission that seeks to improve conditions for bicyclists and pedestrians throughout Deschutes County. Each year, BPAC recognizes businesses and residents that go above and beyond their legal obligations to keep sidewalks free of snow and ice with Safe Sidewalk awards. To learn more about BPAC, or the Safe Sidewalk campaign, please visit: www.deschutes.org/BPAC

"We are the hub of the business community, promoting commerce and tourism making La Pine a vibrant community to work, live and play!"

By T. Myers

Since the decision to make St. Vincent's Social Services Center the only spot to get food boxes in La Pine (The Kitchen still serves lunches, but has given over the task of tracking food boxes to St Vinnies) The busy little 'engine that could' has been serving even more regional needs than ever. Jamie Smith and her happy band of volunteers are serving upwards of 1000 folks each month with basic food needs, emergency utilities, housing and help with getting identification and credentials. They also support events and give directly to other organizations that are doing fundraising during the year!

Walking into the well-stocked storeroom, you will notice several volunteers working daily to pull items from the shelves and the coolers to fill those food boxes. They sort, stock and handle the daily traffic that stops by Mondays through Thursdays to get help. Jamie and her crew work tirelessly to keep the products needed to help people coming through the back door so it can go out the front door!

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIAL SERVICES GOING STRONG...

The Social Services location is continuing a tradition of helping local families since the mid-1980s.

When asked about current needs, Manager, Jamie Smith, explained that working to keep the food on the shelf is only one of their many priorities. "We have the retail sales at SVDP on Huntington to support us in much of what we do. We do need donations of clothing, household items and cash to get by through these really cold months."

Helping folks is always a guessing game. No one can ever predict need accurately and Jamie does her best to be sure that her volunteers have enough to cover the needs of those who apply for food boxes and emergency services. There is always a need for hygiene items, dog and cat food, women's sanitary supplies and baby food/diapers. These are for the emergency applicants who can pick up the items they need to get through a few days. SVDP also works with hoteliers to provide emergency housing. They also contract for emergency dental services with the dental van.

There are several local businesses supporting SVDP. The nonprofit depends on your help. If you are a business who can sponsor SVDP, please give them a call. They can always use more volunteers. If you can help by donating cash or items that will serve the needs of the many people who come through the doors, please contact Jamie. You can leave a message at 541-536-1956. We wish to thank the St Vincent de Paul organization for their many years of continued service to our community. Pictures taken by Teri Myers

IMPORTANT WINTER NOTICE

FROM WILDERNESS GARBAGE & RECYCLING

Your safety and our drivers' safety is the number one priority at Wilderness Garbage. Here are some reminders that you, our customer, need to know.

If the weather or road conditions become severe, WE WILL NOT PUT PEOPLE OR PROPERTY AT RISK. Our trucks may be able to travel the main roads, but due to the size and weight may not be able to navigate your street or driveway. We cannot put drivers or trucks at risk. It is the discretion of the route driver whether to drive down a street or driveway. If our truck cannot pick up your garbage, we will pick up double your service amount the following week.

Recycling Center

During inclement weather, for safety reasons we may be forced to close the Recycling Center. During bad weather please call our office to check on its status.

Here's how you can help your service from being interrupted:

Residential Customers

- Keep access to roll carts clear of snow and ice
- Roll carts must be on street side of snow berms
- Roll carts must be 4' from all objects, including vehicles, mailboxes, address signs, etc.
- If roll cart is in an enclosure, there needs to be a shoveled path to the enclosure
- Roll carts may need to be left out of enclosure
- Where truck access is required, a 12' wide plowed path is needed
- Where the driver leaves the roll cart is where it needs to be left for future service during snow and ice conditions

Commercial Customers

- Keep access to containers clear of snow and ice
- Where truck access is required, a 12' wide plowed path is needed
- Containers in enclosures may need to be left out of enclosure
- Containers must be on level surface so that the truck can hook up to, and dump container. No berms in front of container or enclosure
- Where the driver leaves the container is where it needs to be left for future service during snow and ice conditions.

Wilderness Garbage's number one concern is always safety. This is why we are asking for your help now, before the extreme conditions arrive, so you know what our procedure will be. If conditions do result in delays, we will update our website and notify the local media. You can also call our office. If after regular hours, please listen to the whole message.

FUNDING AVAILABLE TO HELP

LA PINE AREA WOODLAND OWNERS

Reduce wildfire risk, improve forest health Apply for financial assistance with NRCS by February 17, 2017.

Private woodland owners in the La Pine watershed can reduce the risk of catastrophic wildfire on their land with conservation assistance now available from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS).

NRCS is teaming up with multiple Central Oregon agencies and groups to provide much-needed restoration on public and private forests in the greater La Pine area.

This year NRCS is offering $500,000 to help private woodland owners in the greater La Pine area reduce the risk of catastrophic wildfire and improve forest health on their property. Interested landowners should submit applications by February 17 to the NRCS office in Redmond (625 SE Salmon Avenue, Suite 4) to be considered for the current round of funding.

The funding will help woodland owners perform conservation practices like pre-commercial thinning, slash treatment, and fuel breaks. These practices reduce the amount of "fuels" (such as dense, overstocked trees, shrubs and invasive plants) that cause a wildfire to spread higher into the canopy where it causes the most damage. A properly thinned forest holds wildfire lower to the ground, allowing safer access for firefighters to quench the flames.

Thinning also helps reduce the spread of insects and disease that impact marketable timber growth and improves wildlife habitat by providing opened spaces for elk, deer and other species.

NRCS is offering the financial assistance through the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP)—a voluntary Farm Bill program that reimburses landowners for a portion of the cost to implement conservation practices on private agricultural lands, including woodlands and forests.

This forest restoration effort—called the Greater La Pine Basin Cohesive Strategy Project—began last year and is funded by the Joint Chiefs Landscape Restoration Initiative. The Joint Chiefs initiative is a partnership between two USDA agencies—NRCS and the Forest Service—that reduces wildfire risk on both public and private forests. NRCS is offering assistance to help private landowners treat their woods and forests; and the Forest Service will be performing similar restoration on the federal side of the project boundary in the Deschutes National Forest.

The La Pine project will take place over three years, targeting restoration on nearly 345,000 acres of forestlands—which includes state, federal and private lands in southern Deschutes County and northern Klamath County.

"By doing this proactive forest restoration work across the public and private boundaries, we can create a more fire-adapted community while also significantly enhancing the health and productivity of our precious forests," said Tom Bennett, NRCS district conservationist in Redmond.

In addition to the NRCS funding, other project partners are offering assistance to woodland owners to help them protect their forests. The Oregon Department of Forestry and Walker Range Fire Protection District have funds available to help landowners within the Greater La Pine Area. Smaller, more residential woodland owners in Deschutes County may get assistance through Project Wildfire; and Oregon State University Extension Service offers advice and tips on how to best manage forests and woodlands.

For more information, contact Tom Bennett, NRCS District Conservationist at 541-923-4358 x123, or tom.bennett@or.usda.gov

- Get a vehicle winter maintenance check-up. Don't wait to check your battery, belts, hoses, radiator, lights, bakes, heater/defroster and wipers
- Keep your fuel tank full - don't let it fall below half a tank on winter trips
- Program your radio for traffic reports and emergency messages

What to carry on winter trips: • Keep a basic winter survival kit in your vehicle: flashlight, batteries, blanket, snacks, water, gloves, boots, first-aid kit. • Load your car with winter travel gear: tire chains, ice scraper/snow brush, jumper cables, road flares

CALDERA ARTISTS IN RESIDENCE

Bring New Writing Programs to Libraries

Deschutes Public Library partners with Caldera Artists in Residence to bring dynamic new writing workshops to Central Oregon

Writing can be a lonely activity, but often times inspiration can come from working with a group. Deschutes Public Library has long supported Central Oregon's vibrant writing community with workshops and events. In 2017 the Library is partnering with Caldera to bring even more writing programs to the community.

Caldera hosts Artists in Residence (AiR) who will, for the first time, bring their craft to a broad adult community in Central Oregon. Caldera AiR typically provide workshops for Caldera youth.

"This is the first year we are also offering workshops for adults," says Maesie Speer, the Facilities Program Manager at Caldera. "Many of our AiR have experience teaching adults, and we wanted to give them an opportunity to use those skills and for the community to get to know these wonderful artists from around the country in a deeper way."

Caldera AiR will host three workshops, two at the Sisters Library and one at the Downtown Bend Library. All workshops are free and open to the public, however space is limited and advance registration is required. See individual URLs with each workshop to register.

Writing Your Memoir

Wednesday, February 22 • noon-3:00 p.m. • Sisters Library | 110 North Cedar Street, Sisters

A week prior to this workshop, students will submit the opening pages of a memoir-in-progress or a short narrative essay (3-6 pages double spaced) for instructor and peer feedback. Through lively discussion of student manuscripts, short writing exercises, examples of published texts and mini lectures, students will be introduced to a variety of narrative techniques and approaches used in memoir writing, particularly those related to structure, form, point-of-view, theme; and the relationship between narrative and exposition. This workshop is led by Lindsay Wong, who holds a BFA in creative writing and an MFA in literary nonfiction. Her work has appeared in No Tokens, The Fiddlehead, Ricepaper Magazine and Apogee Journal. Space is limited; advance registration required (<http://bit.ly/2irGmxB>).

Somatic Poetry

Sunday, March 19 • 1:00-4:00 p.m. • Downtown Bend Library | 601 NW Wall Street, Bend

Taking a cue from CA Conrad's (Soma)tic Poetry Rituals (somaticpoetryexercises.blogspot.com), participants will engage in somatic poetry "rituals" to be mindful of the present moment and "reveal the creative viability of everything" around them. It's spring! We'll traipse together, using the city as our inspiration, to explore our outer and inner landscapes. This class is for folks who want to shake up their practice, write new work and have fun! This workshop is led by Michelle Peñaloza, who is the author of three chapbooks. Her poetry has appeared in Poetry Northwest, New England Review, Off Paper, Vinyl, The Collagist and Verse Daily. Space is limited; advance registration required (<http://bit.ly/2irKIKP>).

WINTER DRIVING EMERGENCY CAR KIT
Winter travel can be tough on car and driver, to prepare:

- Check your tires and make sure your chains fit before the first winter storm and check tire pressure during cold weather. Remember, tire shops and mechanics are busiest just before and during winter storms
- Get a vehicle winter maintenance check-up. Don't wait to check your battery, belts, hoses, radiator, lights, bakes, heater/defroster and wipers
- Keep your fuel tank full - don't let it fall below half a tank on winter trips
- Program your radio for traffic reports and emergency messages

What to carry on winter trips:

- Keep a basic winter survival kit in your vehicle: flashlight, batteries, blanket, snacks, water, gloves, boots, first-aid kit.
- Load your car with winter travel gear: tire chains, ice scraper/snow brush, jumper cables, road flares

DESCHUTES COUNTY SELECTED FOR BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PILOT PROGRAM

Deschutes County has been selected to participate in a two-year federally-funded behavioral health pilot program. The new Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC) program is designed to increase coordination of care and other treatment services for individuals with the most serious, complex mental illnesses and addictions.

The additional funding will enable the Deschutes County Health Services Department to expand behavioral health services provided to veterans, seniors who are enrolled in Medicare, and other underserved groups. It will also allow for increased collaboration with agencies serving veterans.

Oregon is one of eight states that were selected for the pilot program, which is part of a two-year $1.1 billion federal investment in mental health and addiction treatment at the community level. Deschutes County is one of 13 Oregon counties that will be participating in the pilot program.

"This is an exciting opportunity for us to increase our ability to address the needs of our most vulnerable citizens," said Deschutes County Commissioner Tammy Baney. "It's an opportunity that doesn't come along every day and a commitment that we don't take lightly."

To adequately staff the CCBHC program, Deschutes County will hire 29 limited duration employees. New staff members will be hired on a temporary basis and include counselors, case managers, and peer support specialists.

The initial wave of recruiting to staff the pilot program begins this week. Interested applicants can view available openings at www.deschutes.org/jobs. Deschutes County anticipates that the CCBHC pilot program will begin work in April. Additional job openings will be posted in the coming weeks.

"Deschutes County Health Services has a long-standing community-based service model," said Deschutes County Health Services Director Dr. George Conway. "This project provides our community with an excellent opportunity to extend services to additional persons in need. It will also improve coordination of care with our community partners and primary care providers."

For more information on CCBHCs, visit: <http://www.thenationalcouncil.org/topics/certified-community-behavioral-health-clinics-3/>
